Things to check before choosing and bringing in a vehicle for a thorough inspection:

- Check www.nada.com and other sources to see what other like vehicles are selling for. Is the asking price within the estimated value?
- Complete a walk around of the vehicle. Is there any damage?
 - Are the headlights lenses faded?
 - Do the tires have good tread all the way across?
 - Are the sidewalls on the tires cracking?
- Under the hood remove oil fill cap and shine a flashlight inside the engine, is the metal clean and golden or black and sludgy? Is the oil level full?
 - If there is a transmission dipstick pull and see if the fluid is nice and bright red or dark and burnt? (If present this is generally a red handle)
- Look under the car. Do you see any drips or excessive wet spots anywhere?
- On road test check radio and shut it off. Now do you hear any abnormal noises? Check at different speeds.
 - Are there any warning lights on?
 - Do the brakes shudder or squeak when applied?
 - Does the transmission shift smoothly?
 - Push all the buttons to include any in the rear of vehicle, do they all work?
 - Does the cruise control work?
 - Does the air conditioning and heater work? Does it work on all settings and speeds? Any abnormal noises?
